NEW RADIO REGULATIONS	-	NEW TECHNOLOGY	-	NEW LICENCES
Business Radio is entering a new era with the introduction by Ofcom of revised licence classes, giving more flexibility to the user in how they can use their equipment.
Trading of channels has been introduced so users can purchase channels to increase their capacity or sell their channels if they become surplus to requirements.
At the same time, manufacturers have developed new digital technology for use by Business Radio.
Altogether interesting and exciting times!!
Give us a call to hear about the opportunities on offer or for help in understanding how the changes may affect you.

Procom are trying to become more environmentally friendly, and would like to send our trading documents specifically invoices and statements to you via e-mail instead of printing them and sending them via the post
If you would like to adopt this system - please send the following details to: jill@procom-pecscot.co.uk
